

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

We do not want to pay more for our telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. The primary concern is that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people, or businesses, that make many calls. Stated differently, both low-volume (and primarily residential customers) would bear the same universal service fund burden as high-volume residential or business customers. This practice is not only unfair but also unreasonable.

We use our wireless phone for safety and security. Therefore, we do not want to sacrifice these benefits. Neither do we want to promote big business profit margins. Consider your constituency by rejecting the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF balanced!

Sincerely,
